

Leadership Development Series

Fall 2025 Curriculum

Leadership 101 - Building a Leadership Mindset

September 23rd | 8:00 am - 11:00 am

Basic tenets of leadership and followership will be explored during this session, with opportunities for peer-to-peer interaction and learning. Session is appropriate for emerging and experienced leaders.

Making the Transition from Individual Contributor to Leader of Others

October 21st | 8:00 am - 11:00 am

Team members are often promoted because they excel at being individual contributors and have a high degree of technical expertise. Neither are necessarily required to lead other people and unless we are intentional about developing the leadership skills of high-producing staff, they will become frustrated, disillusioned and be less than stellar in their leadership role. This does not have to be the reality we face in our organizations.

Leadership & Followership

December 2nd | 8:00 am - 10:00 am

This session will explore leadership from the perspective of followers and their willingness to be led. We will also examine how leaders can use situational awareness to enhance their impact across their organization
